

Aboriginal Head Start January 2021 Newsletter

NEWS

We would like to wish everyone a Happy New Year, hope everybody had a safe and happy holiday!

The month of January will be the month of self-understanding. Our two main topics are emotions, and the five senses.

If any parents have books or materials that will stimulate the senses, or help the kids understand their feelings, we would appreciate borrowing them for the month.

Encourage your children to identify their feelings at home, and what might have caused them.

Our classroom will also be starting colour days, please look out for these days and ensure that your child is wearing something of that colour.

In the previous month of December, we had a lot of fun with the holiday spirit in the classroom. We learned Christmas carols, made cookies, and participated in making our own Christmas instruments. What an exciting month!

SIDENOTES

Songs for class and home

Five senses song – Kiboomers

The more we get together - Unknown

- January 7 Red day
- January 14 Blue day
- January 21 Yellow day
- January 28 Purple day

A big Mahsi Cho to Sean Drygeese for coming in to do a demonstration of how he makes Bannock, it was tasty.